The screenshot shows the Adobe Experience Manager (AEM) Rich Text Editor interface. At the top, there's a navigation tree with categories like 'myTraining' and 'en'. Below the tree, there's a search bar labeled 'Search'. Underneath the search bar, there are two footer sections: 'About Me' and 'Contact US'. A message 'Drag components here' is visible at the bottom of the editor area. The overall interface is dark-themed.

The screenshot shows the Adobe Experience Manager (AEM) Content Manager interface. It displays three items in a grid, all of which are marked as 'Enabled':

- Content Page: PAGE. Last updated 2 hours ago, status Not published.
- News Room Template: PAGE. Last updated now, status Not published.
- Web Variation: EXPERIENCE FRAGMENT. Status Not published.

Two sweet victories for RCB in the rivalry since last year and this one's going to be pretty special. They rode their luck but importantly they had the plans and setup to be bossy. In fact it was one-sided after a point and lacked fight. CSK are known for consistency. They don't overreact to wins or losses. They could still keep things simple and back their players but with them travelling away will they make changes? Surely yes one feels. RCB's next assignment is at home so they will be super excited about leaving to Bengaluru as table-toppers from here. That's it about today but tomorrow MI are challenging GT in Ahmedabad. Both teams didn't have the first game going their way.
